Dear Regulated Company:

Reference: Your 2012 Annual Report and 2013 Regulatory Fees are Due May 1

State law requires you to file an annual report and pay regulatory fees to the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (commission).

What is required of you?

By May 1, you must:

- Complete and file one paper copy or electronic version of the enclosed 2012 annual report form
- Pay your 2013 regulatory fees

What happens if you do not file a completed annual report and pay regulatory fees on time?

If you do not file your company's completed annual report and pay the regulatory fees by May 1, the commission will assess a financial penalty of $100 for each business day after May 1 that the report is not filed and/or the fees are unpaid. You may seek mitigation of the penalties in response to the assessment you receive after you have filed a completed annual report and paid your regulatory fees. Any potential mitigation of the penalty, if any, will depend on the reason it is late and whether you have filed late in prior years. Staff may also initiate proceedings to request the commission revoke your authority to operate in Washington.

What happens if you do not pay the regulatory fees by May 1?

If the commission does not receive your company's regulatory fees by May 1, you will incur a 2 percent penalty on the amount due and a 1 percent monthly interest charge on the unpaid balance. These amounts apply in addition to the assessment of a penalty of $100 per business day after May 1 that the fees are unpaid.

May you request an extension of time if you are unable to file the annual report or pay your regulatory fees on time?

You may file a written request for an extension to file your completed annual report; however, the commission will not extend the deadline for paying regulatory fees. Any extension request must be filed with the commission by April 24, 2013, and must state a valid reason for why you need an extension and identify a specific date by which you will file your completed annual report. The commission will notify you by May 1 whether your request is approved or denied. Even if your request is approved, you will still be liable for penalties and interest payments if you fail to pay your regulatory fees by May 1.

What should you do if your company is no longer operating in Washington?

You may cancel your registration or permit by using the cancellation forms available on the commission's website at www.utc.wa.gov; however, if your company operated in Washington at any time during the 2012 calendar year, you must pay regulatory fees and file a closing annual report based on the months of operation during 2012 even if you cancel your registration or permit.

May you designate any information in your annual report as confidential?

Only if you satisfy two conditions:

(1) You are eligible to request confidential treatment only if your company is regulated under Title 80 RCW, that is, if you operate an electric, natural gas, telecommunications, or water company. Transportation companies, regulated under Title 81 RCW, may not request confidential treatment of documents because the authority for such treatment is found only in RCW 80.04.095. If a Title 81 company files its annual report or fee sheet as confidential, the commission will not treat it as confidential.

(2) You must follow the steps for filing confidential documents in WAC 480-07-160. You may find this rule on the commission website, www.utc.wa.gov/annualreports.

Please note: The regulatory fee sheet portion of your report is not a confidential document and will not be accorded confidential treatment under the rule. The commission will not, however, disclose credit card information you list on the fee sheet.

May you perform some of these tasks online?

Yes. You may complete the following tasks from the annual reports page at the commission website www.utc.wa.gov/annualreports.

- Obtain electronic versions of annual report forms;
- Pay regulatory fees;

Where do you mail the completed annual report form and regulatory fee payment?

Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission
PO Box 47250
Olympia, WA 98504-7250

The commission must receive your annual report form and regulatory fee payment on or before May 1, without regard to when you mail them. The commission will no longer consider this filing to be timely if it is postmarked on that date. If you mail the completed form and payment, therefore, you must do so sufficiently in advance for them to be delivered to the commission on or before May 1. Forms and payment the commission receives after that date will be considered late and subject to the penalties described in this notice without regard to when you mailed them.

Is there any additional information you should file?

- If you are a gas distribution company, please remember to also file both a paper and electronic copy of your Federal Energy Regulatory Commission Form 2.
- If you are an electric company, please also file both a paper and electronic copy of your Federal Energy Regulatory Commission Form 1.
- If you are a class 1 Railroad, please also file a copy of your Surface Transportation Board Form R-1 - including statistics specific to the state of Washington.
